the Golden Match worth 2 points to the team that wins.

For example, Team One wins the coin toss. Team One's captain predicts that Team Two's team will win Doubles 1, so Team One's Captain eliminates that match as the Golden Match. Next, Team Two predicts their team playing Doubles 2 will most likely lose, so Team Two's Captain eliminates Doubles 2 as the Golden Match. With two matches left, Team One will decide the final match to eliminate. The match that remains will be the Golden Match and worth 2 points to the team that wins.
